1. Purpose:

This procedure represent requirements for all Arkal Automotive global suppliers regarding human rights, labor standards, business ethics, environmental protection and safety. Suppliers are obligated to communicate these requirements to their employees as well as to their own suppliers and to ensure compliance.

Arkal automotive global applies the same provisions concerning labor standards, business ethics, environmental protection and safety to its own business operations. They are implemented by means of our Code of Conduct and our Environmental Energy & Safety policies.

against employees, for instance on the basis of race, origin, nationality, skin color, religion, ideology, political or union activity, gender, sexual orientation, age, disability, disease or pregnancy, is prohibited.

4.1.5. Freedom of Association and the Right to Collective Bargaining - Companies should preserve freedom of association and actively acknowledge the right to collective bargaining. They must ensure that their employees can discuss working conditions openly with management without fear of punishment. The right of employees to assemble, join a union, appoint representatives and be elected to the union must be respected.

4.1.6. Fairness in Pay, Working Hours, and Social Benefits - Compensation and social benefits must correspond to the basic principles of minimum wages, applicable overtime regulations and statutory social benefits. Work hours and time off must, as a minimum, be in conformity with applicable laws, industry standards or relevant ILO conventions, whichever are strictest.

4.1.7. Health and Safety at the Workplace - As employers, suppliers shall ensure health and safety in the workplace at levels no less than those required by national legislation, and shall support the continuous advancement and improvement of working conditions.

4.1.8. The right to privacy (Data protection)

Is defined as “No one shall be subjected to arbitrary interference with his privacy, family, home or correspondence, nor to attacks upon his honor and reputation. Everyone has the right to the protection of the law against such interference or attacks.” In the European Union, the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) was approved and adopted by the EU Parliament in April 2016 and it will be in force May 2018. The aim is to protect all EU citizens from privacy and data breaches in an increasingly data-driven world. The GDPR applies to organizations located within the EU, as well as to organizations located outside of the EU if they offer goods or services to, or monitor the behavior of, EU data subjects. It applies to all companies processing and holding the personal data of data subjects residing in the European Union, regardless of the company's location.

4.2. Business Ethics and Compliance

4.2.1. Adherence to Laws - We expect the highest level of integrity in all business activities and business relationships. Suppliers are requested to refrain from all forms of fraud or disloyalty, insolvency crimes, corruption, granting of unfair advantages, and giving or taking bribes. Suppliers are obligated to obey all laws and regulations, which apply to them and their business relations with Arkal Automotive.

4.2.2. Fair Competition - Laws that protect and promote competition, in particular laws against restraints on competition, must be adhered to. Companies must respect rules of fair competition and comply with the ban on agreements with competitors or other actions taken to interfere with the free market.

4.2.3. Avoidance of Conflicts of Interests - When dealing with business partners, suppliers are obligated to make decisions solely based on objective information and not allow themselves to be influenced by personal or selfish financial interests.

4.2.4. Safeguarding of Trade Secrets - Suppliers are obligated to treat as confidential all non-public financial and technical details to which they become privy during the course of the business relations.

4.3. Escalation ("whistle-blowing") policy

4.3.1. Any employee, at any level, that may detect, be exposed to, or suffer from any deviation from the above rules is encouraged to report on what s/he has been exposed. It might be directly to the CEO or VP of HR, or to specific email address

4.3.2. The reporting can be done discreetly, and either directly or indirectly via a third party.

4.3.3. The reported issue will be immediately investigated, with the full cooperation of the top-level management.

4.3.4. It is clarified that an employee who reports on any Ethics issue will be fully protected, and will not be harmed.

4.4. Environmental Protection and Safety

4.4.1. Environmental Responsibility - When addressing environmental issues, suppliers must follow precautionary principles and take initiatives to promote greater environmental responsibility as well as the development and spread of environmentally friendly technologies.

4.4.2. Environmentally Friendly Production - Optimum environmental protection must be guaranteed during every phase of production. This includes a proactive approach to preventing and minimizing the impact of accidents that may harm the environment. Especially significant in this context are the utilization and continued development of technologies for conserving energy and water, characterized by the use of strategies for reduction of emissions, reuse and recycling of materials.

4.4.3. Environmentally Friendly Products - All products manufactured along the supply chain must meet the environmental standards of their market segments. This applies to the complete product life cycle as well as to all materials used. Chemicals and other substances, which are potentially harmful substances if released into the environment, must be identified. A management system for hazardous materials must be established to enable safe handling, transport, storage recycling, reuse, and disposal of such materials.

4.4.4. Product Safety and Quality - All products and services must meet contractual criteria for quality, active, and passive safety upon delivery. They must be used safely in line with their intended purpose.
